Champion windsurfer: 'Have fun, go fast'

HOOD RIVER, Ore. -- The U.S. windsurfing nationals were recently held in Hood River, where several families took part in the event.

One family in particular caught the eye of KOIN Reporter Tim Becker: a father-daughter team from Hood River who have been competing together for years.

Now, 15-year-old Fiona Wjide and her father Macrae Wjide are among the best in the country at windsurfing.

Fiona grew up riding on the front of her dad's board, hanging onto a rope he rigged for her while he sailed across the water. KOIN captures the duo in action, and hears more from them about what keeps them at the top of their field.
